Report on the Annual Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the annual financial statements of Komputronik S.A. w restrukturyzacji (the Company) with its registered office in Poznań, 37 Wolczyńska Street, which comprise the balance sheet as of March 31, 2021, and the income statement, statement of profit or loss and statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity, statement of cash flows for the financial year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes.

In our opinion, the accompanying annual financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company as of March 31, 2021 and of its financial performance and of its cash flows for the financial year then ended in accordance with the International Accounting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standards and related interpretations published in the form of European Commission regulations and adopted accounting principles (policy),
- were prepared on the basis of properly maintained books of account,
- comply with the laws affecting the content and form of the annual financial statements and the provisions of the Company's articles of association.

The audit opinion is consistent with the additional report to the Audit Committee submitted on the same day as this audit report.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with

- the Act of May 11, 2017 on statutory auditors, audit firms, and public supervision (uniform text: Journal of Laws of 2020, item 1415) (the Act on Statutory Auditors),

- International Standards on Auditing adopted as National Standards on Auditing (NSA) by the National Council of Statutory Auditors' resolution No. 3430/52a/2019 of March 21, 2019, as amended and
- Regulation (EU) No. 537/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of April, 16 2014 on specific requirements regarding statutory audit of public-interest entities and repealing Commission Decision 2005/909/EC (OJ L 158, 27.5.2014, p. 77 and OJ L 170, 11.6.2014, p. 66) (the Regulation 537/2014).

Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Annual Financial Statements section of our report.

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) (IESBA Code) adopted by the National Council of Statutory Auditors' resolution No. 3431/52a/2019 of March 25, 2019 together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Poland. In particular, in conducting the audit the Key Audit Partner and the Audit Firm remained independent of the Company in accordance with the provisions of the Act on Statutory Auditors and the Regulation 537/2014. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern

In note 2 of the additional notes to the financial statements prepared as at 31 March 2021, the Management presented the circumstances that led to the assumption of going concern, including: the legal situation concerning the recovery proceedings opened by the District Court, the current financial situation of the Company as well as risks and uncertainty that may affect the fulfilment of the assumptions set out in the request for initiation of the recovery proceedings. Due to the court's decision to open the recovery proceedings and to the actions taken by the Administrator to bring the Company to recovery and thus enter into an arrangement with creditors, allowing for further operation of the Company, the financial statements were prepared on the assumption of going concern. The Restructuring Plan prepared under the recovery proceedings contains a financial model and forecasts of the Company's results assuming positive financial flows, which will enable the entity to continue its activity without interruptions and partially satisfy claims under the arrangement with creditors. The implementation of the Plan depends primarily on entering into the arrangement the absence of which involves a significant risk of bankruptcy.

The circumstances described by the Management indicate that there is material uncertainty which may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. However, in the opinion of the Management, the arrangement is feasible and so is the implementation of the remaining restructuring measures, which gives feasible opportunity to free the Company from debt and gradually improve the financial results; however, there is no certainty that the actions taken and planned by the Management will succeed, as they pertain to future events. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in the audit of the annual financial statements of the current period. They include the most significant assessed risks of material misstatement, including assessed risk of material misstatement due to fraud. These matters were addressed in the context of the audit of the annual financial statements as a whole, and in forming the auditor's opinion thereon. Below, we provided a summary of our response to those risks and where relevant, key observations arising with those risks. We do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Impairment of financial assets – subsidiary’s shares
Auditor’s response

The Company measures subsidiary’s shares at historical cost, net of impairment write-downs. The share impairment tests are based on a number of assumptions and estimates with respect to parameters used for calculation, and they are largely based on the judgement of the Entity’s Management.

In particular, the financial statements present the shares of Komputronik Biznes Sp. z o.o. w restrukturyzacji with a carrying amount of PLN 15 687 k. The impairment test for this item did not show any impairment. The impairment test was based on expected cash flows dependent on future events, the occurrence of which, however, is uncertain.

The issue was considered material because it requires the Management to make material assumptions and judgements. The risk of failure to recognise an impairment loss on long-term financial assets may lead to an incorrect recognition of financial expenses and distort the value of the balance sheet total. The carrying amount of shares in subsidiaries reported in financial statements as at 31 March 2021 amounted to PLN 62,165k, equal 14% of the balance sheet total.

Details of the Company’s accounting policy concerning measurement of investments in subsidiaries and affiliates are disclosed in note 2: “Basis for the preparation and accounting principles” and note 7: “Investments in subsidiaries and affiliates” of the additional notes to the financial statements.

Our audit procedures included in particular:

- identification of key indicators for the impairment of shares,
- talks with the Management, key personnel and external advisors regarding the financial forecasts of subsidiaries,
- critical assessment of the assumptions adopted by the Management, applied to the valuation model,
- critical assessment of the model and the correctness of its calculation,
- assessment of the appropriateness of conclusions drawn by the Management when determining revaluation write-downs.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to note 20 of the additional notes to the financial statements, where the Management described the provisions for tax risk established by the Company, and to note 36, where the tax risk resulting from ongoing tax proceedings was described. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Responsibilities of Management and Supervisory Board for the Annual Financial Statements

The Management of the Company is responsible for the preparation, on the basis of properly maintained books of account, of these annual financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the International Accounting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standards and related interpretations published in the form of European Commission regulations, adopted accounting principles (policy), legal regulations, and the Company’s articles of association. The Management of the Company is also responsible for such internal control as the Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of annual financial statements that are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the annual financial statements, the Management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease the operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

In accordance with the Accounting Act of September 29, 1994 (uniform text: Journal of Laws of 2021, item 217, as amended) (the Accounting Act), the Management and the Supervisory Board of the Company are obliged to assure compliance of the annual financial statements with the requirements of the Accounting Act. The Supervisory Board is responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Annual Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the annual financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with NSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these annual financial statements.

The scope of the audit does not include assurance on the future viability of the Company or on the efficiency or effectiveness with which the Management has conducted or will conduct the affairs of the Company.

As part of an audit in accordance with NSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the annual financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the annual financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the annual financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the annual financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Supervisory Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Supervisory Board with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From matters communicated with the Supervisory Board, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that the matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
